Subject to it being permitted to do so by applicable Federal and State Law or regulation, the Employer shall record that portion of the salary checks equal to the amount of the compensation checks covering partial disability as not being income to the employee for income tax purposes and the W-2 or similar forms sent to the employees at the conclusion of each year shall not show such payments as income, or

2) Checks shall be issued by the Employer in an amount equal to the difference between the employee's regular hourly rate of pay plus longevity and the amount of partial disability Workers Compensation insurance payment received by the employees during the aforesaid ninety (90) day period.

If eligibility for such payments is contested by the Employer, then eligibility will be based on the determination of the New Jersey Division of Workers Compensation under the terms of the New Jersey Workers Compensation Act.

Section 5.

Contested Injury: If the Employer is contesting eligibility for injury leave, an absence from work may be changed to accrued sick leave. If the Workers Compensation Division determines in favor of the employee, then sick leave so charged shall be recredited to the employee's sick leave.

If eligibility is denied by the Workers Compensation Division then employees may utilize sick leave, if any, retroactive to the date of injury, and vacation leave, if any, to cover the absence from work.

Section 6.

Medical Proofs: To limit its obligations for each new separate injury, the Employer may require employees to furnish medical proof or submit to medical examination by physician chosen by the Employer (at its expense) to determine whether an injury is a new or separate injury or is an aggravation of a former injury received while working for the Employer.

Section 7.

Employees who suffer an injury while on duty, and who are absent for five (5) days or more, shall be required to submit a written certification from a physician setting forth the nature of the injury and the physician's prognosis as to the length of time before the employee can return to duty.
